Foreign Cuisine Research
Mrs. Price

After you have selected a country to research, please remember to include the following points of interest and how they are connected to the cuisine of your country. Each area is worth up to 10 points:

1. A brief history of the country you have chosen. A cultural background of the area will help you and others to understand how the cuisine in that area has developed.
2. Climate and terrain of the country.
3. Agricultural areas and products.
4. Popular ingredients used in the cuisine and reason for their popularity.
5. Famous or favorite recipes from the country you have selected.
6. Meal time customs and holiday traditions.
7. Odd or unusual tools used for food preparation in that country.
8. Cuisine basics: (use lots of sauces, prefer food to be spicy etc)
9. Final research presented orally to the class includes fact sheet for distribution to other class members.
10. Include bibliography of the resources used.
